You will notice that the time for appointment of a School Trustee for Cloverhill District will come up before the Electoral Board on Saturday, June 2. Having served this District as School Trustee for more than twenty-five years and I believe in such a way as to meet with the approval of the patrons and taxpayers, I am now seeking reappointment. I am willing for my record during this period to be passed before the Board for their consideration. Other members of the Town School Board, The Superintendent of Schools, and the State Board of Education can certify as to my qualifications and the work I have done. I have tried to serve to the best of my ability and wish to thank the School Patrons and other citizens for their support through the years.

FREQUENT GATHERING OF EGGS WILL IMPROVE QUALITY

Frequent gathering of eggs helps keep them clean and improves interior quality, says D. U. Livermore, poultry marketing specialist at V. P. I.

He cites a Pennsylvania study which showed three times a day collection resulted in 15 per cent more grade AA eggs than once a day collection.

Livermore says poultrymen who sell on a market on which a premium is paid for quality, or where they are paid on a basis of Federal-State grades, the increase in grade AA eggs would seem enough to warrant collection three times a day.

The studies showed that when eggs are gathered three times daily the improvement in grade during January and February was 10 per cent; March and April 16.5 per cent; May through July, 19.5 per cent; and January through July 14.9 per cent.

It was also found that the per cent of clean brown eggs increased from 53 per cent to 69 per cent when the number of times fathered daily was increased from to 1 to 4 respectively. The percentage of clean white eggs increased from 29 per cent to 61 per cent when the number of times gathered daily was increased from 1 to 4.

Livermore stresses that high interior quality and cleanliness are important factors in getting the highest returns. A few simple practices, such as gathering eggs often and cooling them quickly, will result in higher quality.

WHO OWNS THE RAILROADS ?

A lot of people own the railroads.

Most of them are ordinary folks — folks who work hard for a living — save what they can — and invest their savings in the ways they think will best provide for their security.

You know a lot of these people. You may be one of them yourself.

They're painters and plumbers . . . school teachers . . . small business men . . . widows . . . policemen . . . salesmen . . . lawyers . . . store clerks . . . farmers . . . doctors . . . nurses . . . railroad workers . . . they're the cross section of America.

Unfortunately, there are certain groups in this country who don't want you to know this. These are the "Take-it-away-from-John-and-give-it-to-me" boys. They range from the shrewd and deadly dangerous Communist who works for a foreign power bent on destroying America and Americans — down to the fellow who is easier misled than he is led, and who is drugged on the propaganda of a pipe dream of "something for nothing."

These are the fellows who chisel at the foundations of America . . . who scoff at our churches and ideals, undermine our schools, and blast at our so-called "big business."

Remember this — "big business" is owned by a lot of "little" people. The bigger it is, the more people are involved. The railroads of America are owned by approximately 1,866,000 people — stockholders and bondholders. The Norfolk and Western itself has 24,000 owners.

Whatever profits the railroads make are divided among these people who have worked and saved to buy ownership in them — and anything that injures the railroads of America injures these people . . . injures the security provisions they have made for present-day and old-age . . . and at the same time injures the security of many millions who indirectly rely on the railroads for their jobs . . . and for the transportation service which is the backbone of the nation in peace and war.

Norfolk and Western Railway
